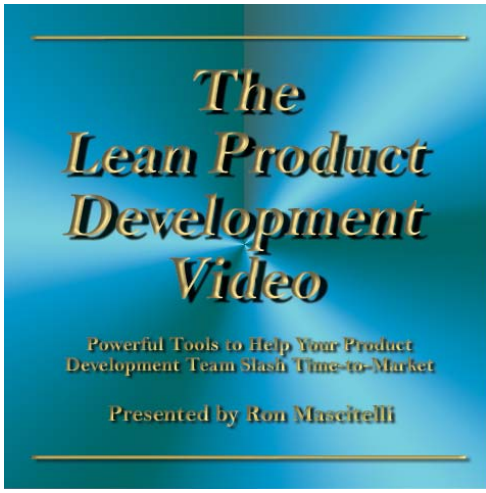
Powerful Tools for Slashing Time-to-Market



The Lean Product Development Video utilizes a powerful multimedia format that simultaneously displays PowerPoint slides and a synchronized audio/video presentation. In this seventy-minute program, Ron Mascitelli explains several of the most powerful time-saving, waste-slashing methods from Building a Project-Driven Enterprise. This fast-paced, graphics-rich learning tool is an excellent way for you to share practical methods for dramatically reducing time-to-market with a single team, or an entire organization. The format used can be easily e-mailed to a large distribution list, and viewed on any computer that is Web-enabled. An excellent way to kick off a new and important design project!

"Ron is an interesting, dynamic speaker. His methods combine facts, methods, and fun. Terrific! I was not disappointed! His content is informative and up-to-date."

- Saundra May, Senior Project Manager
